

An Apostles' Creed for the New Millennium

“We are using this as a four week Lenten study. We offer it to the church family on Wednesday noon with soup and beverage, and also at 7 PM. The content makes everything crystal clear about Christian beliefs and faith, with the opportunity to examine in-depth exactly what it is that we believe.”

- Rev. Mary Potter
Tryon Presbyterian Church
Tryon, NC

“It gives people a better appreciation of the Creed and its meaning for everyday life. This thought-provoking study helps us realize that the Creed is more than just something we recite on Sunday, but is instead a vital and ancient confession of faith with much relevance to us today.”

- Pastor Steven Unzicker
Our Savior's and Spring Valley Lutheran Parish
Viborg, SD

“This biblical resource is a spiritually enriching experience because:

- it spurs creative thought-processing,
- it opens new doors for exploring what Christianity is,
- its content is easy to grasp but yet challenges us to think about how to survive in a world outside the walls of the church.”

- Pastor Harlan Hayunga
Second Reformed Church
Lennox, SD

“It is spiritually enriching for my post-confirmation Sunday School class of 9th and 10th graders. They like the additional thoughts about the Creed, especially about living the Servant-Life. The graphics are great because the students can ‘grasp and understand’ their meaning, and apply it to their own life.”

- Rev. Carol B. Snyder
United Church of Christ
Huntingdon, PA

“Our goal in using this resource is to provide faith-enrichment for adults, and to offer parents help with engaging in faith discussions with their children. We're talking and growing.”

- Carol Leber
Resurrection Lutheran Church
Plano, TX
